DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 8-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tilton et al (US Patent No. 6,108,201). Tilton et al., discloses a fluid control apparatus and method for spray cooling comprising a recipient base/circuit board (200), a front surface with raised impingement surfaces/integrated circuit (220) whereby the raised impingement surface being oriented to received atomized cooling fluid/coolant mist (124) form a common atomizer (120); and a plurality of drainage passages among the plurality of raised impingement surfaces each disposed to receive a flow of cooling fluid flow and furthermore comprising, electronic devices with hotspot requiring cooling (220) and inherently capable of receiving a liquid supply that is below or above its saturation temperature prior to entering spray nozzles/orifices (122) and applying a thin evaporator film layer over electronic devices.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-7 & 14 are allowed over the prior art of record.
